Summary

Software Engineer with 6 years experience in designing, building, and deploying scalable cloud-native backend services. Strong expertise in Python/Django with hands-on experience in containerized environments using Docker and Kubernetes and working knowledge of AWS. Experienced in CI/CD integration with Jenkins and ensuring system reliability through automated testing.

Work Experience

Software Developer - Ericsson, Budapest Nov 2022 - July 2026

- Developed and maintained backend services using Python and Django in a microservices architecture
- Conducted feasibility studies and created proof-of-concept implementations for new features
- Implemented a comprehensive testing strategy using pytest for unit, Robot Framework for system/integration, and Schemathesis for API contract testing
- Debugged and resolved complex system test failures across distributed services
- Developed and maintained event-driven microservices using Apache Kafka
- Participated in code reviews, technical discussions, and cross-team collaboration to deliver reliable backend services, resolve release blockers, and improve engineering practices
- Leveraged AI-assisted development tools (Github Copilot, Kiro CLI) to increase productivity

Software Developer - Nokia, Budapest Oct 2020 - Jan 2022

- Worked in an Agile environment contributing to backend development using Python
- Implemented unit tests with unittest and pytest libraries and integration tests with Robot Framework
- Containerized microservices using Docker
- Developed CI/CD pipelines using GitLab CI and Bash
- Automated build, testing, and deployment processes
- Created and maintained internal documentation
